Other forms: authenticities

Authenticity is the quality of being genuine or real. You might question the authenticity of your eccentric uncle's photo of a UFO.

The word authenticity is the state of something being authentic, or legitimate and true. Authenticity is important when the value of something is dependent on where it came from or how it was made. If you buy a ring said to be worn by Marie Antoinette, you will likely pay a hefty price for it. Before you spend all of that money, you should consult with a historian or experienced jeweler, who will be able to verify its authenticity.

Fake/real (maybe)

Applying the framework to the BMW Mini Countryman
(Gilmore and Joseph Pine 2007) would describe the Mini Cooper Countryman a fake, real. It is not what it says it is, but it displays a true reflection of its values.

Some suggest fake/fake

- Well the fake is obvious, but what about the real feeling of being true to itself?

Maybe fake is not bad, if you are honest about it

So, what can we do about it?

What to do with your new view of your Airbnb

After recognising which quadrant currently Airbnb sits, (Gilmore and Joseph Pine 2007) then offer strategies to apply to maintain and build the authenticity of your offering

Fake: Real When your Airbnb is not what it says it is but is true to your values

- Change the name of your Airbnb to match what you are as a host
- Align how you market yourself to the way your customers perceive you
- Modify your Airbnb to better fit the nature of your offering
- Make sure that in all the various ways you present your Airbnb does not detract from what you really are.

So, what can we do about it?

Real: Fake When your Airbnb is what it says it is but is not true to your values

- Modify your offerings until they accurately reflect the nature of your Airbnb
- Ensure that how customers view and use your Airbnb matches how you intend it to be used.
- Make sure you offer nothing that damages the history of your Airbnb
- Remove components that do not further the purpose of your Airbnb
- Make sure your Airbnb's values come through in all your communication, marketing and behaviours as well as your cleaning team.

So, what can we do about it?

Fake: Fake When your Airbnb is not true to your values or in what it says it is.

If after a lot of retrospection you find yourself with a Fake, Fake Airbnb don't panic. Little changes are unlikely to move the perception of authenticity. Instead, its time to do big thinking. Followed by big action.

Real: Real When your Airbnb is true to your values and also in what it says it is.

If you find yourself running a real, real Airbnb, remember authenticity is a journey rather than a destination. Real, real Airbnbs require will constant maintenance to make sure they stay this way.

Exercise

- The obvious
- Consider authenticity on your course assignment
- Describe both how authentic it is now
- And what you can do to improve the authenticity
- Use the matrix
